NUMBER 1, MARCH 1985

A. F. SPOELSTRA. Nitrate in silage (Review Paper) 1

J. R. B. TALLOWIN. Herbage losses from tiller pulling in a continuously grazed perennial ryegrass sward 13

M. L. CURLL and R. J. WILKINS. The effect of cutting for conservation on a grazed perennial ryegrass-white clover pasture 19

C. R. STOCKDALE. Influence of some sward characteristics on the consumption of irrigated pastures grazed by lactating dairy cattle 31

R. A. BYERS, W. C. TEMPLETON, JR, R. L. MANGAN, D. L. BIERLEIN, W. F. CAMPBELL and H. J. DONLEY. Establishment of legumes in grass swards: effects of pesticides on slugs, insects, legume seedling numbers and forage yield and quality 41

S. SUGIYAMA, M. YONEYAMA, N. TAKAHASHI and K. GOTOH. Canopy structure and productivity of Festuca arundinacea Schreb. swards during vegetative and reproductive growth 49

C. J. DOYLE and D. J. THOMSON. The future of lucerne in British agriculture: an economic assessment 57

T. D. A. FORBES and J. HODGSON. Comparative studies of the influence of sward conditions on the ingestive behaviour of cows and sheep 69

P. D. PENNING and G. E. HOOPER. An evaluation of the use of short-term weight changes in grazing sheep for estimating herbage intake 79

M. E. CASTLE and J. N. WATSON. Silage and milk production: studies with molasses and formic acid as additives for grass silage 85

J. G. HAMPTON and P. D. HEBBLETHWAITE. The effect of the growth regulator paclobutrazol (PP 333) on the growth, development and yield of Lolium perenne grown for seed 93

R. D. SHELDRICK, R. H. LAVENDER, V. J. TEWSON and J. M. COBBY. The effect on annual dry matter yield of using a hand-controlled mower or a plot harvester for cutting herbage on small-plot trials 103

M. Y. HARB and R. C. CAMPLING. Variation among pregnant, non-lactating dairy cows in eating and ruminating behaviour, digestibility and voluntary intake of hay 109

M. Y. HARB, VIVIEN S. REYNOLDS and R. C. CAMPLING. Eating behaviour, social dominance and voluntary intake of silage in group-fed milking cattle 113

B. G. COTTYN, CH.V. BOUCQUE, L.O. FIEMS, J.M. VANACKER and F.X. BUYSSE. Unwilted and prewilted grass silage for finishing bulls 119

Book Review 127

NUMBER 2, JUNE 1985

M. L. CURLL, R. J. WILKINS, R. W. SNAYDON and V. S. SHANMUGALINGAM. The effects of stocking rate and nitrogen fertilizer on a perennial ryegrass-white clover sward. 1. Sward and sheep performance 129

M. L. CURLL, R. J. WILKINS, R. W. SNAYDON and V. S. SHANMUGALINGAM. The effects of stocking rate and nitrogen fertiliser on a perennial ryegrass-white clover sward. 2. Subsequent sward and sheep performance 141

I. B. NORRIS. Relationships between growth and measured weather factors among contrasting varieties of Lolium, Dactylis and Festuca species 151

J. S. FAULKNER. A comparison of faba beans and peas as whole-crop forages 161

S. J. COOK. Effect of nutrient application and herbicides on root competition between green panic seedlings and a Heteropogon grassland sward 171

T. D. A. FORBES and J. HODGSON. The reaction of grazing sheep and cattle to the presence of dung from the same or the other species 177

C. J. C. PHILLIPS and J. D. LEAVER. Supplementary feeding of forage to grazing dairy cows. 1. Offering hay to dairy cows at high and low stocking rates. 183

C. J. C. PHILLIPS and J. D. LEAVER. Supplementary feeding of forage to grazing dairy cows. 2. Offering grass silage in early and late season 193

R. K. M. HAY. The microclimate of an upland grassland 201

Q. PARIS and P. PARIS. A von Liebig response function to nitrogen and phosphorus for hay production from irrigated pastures 213

I. ALLI, E. ROBIDAS, E. NOROOZI and B. E. BAKER. Some changes associated with the field drying of lucerne and timothy 221

Summaries of offered papers read at the Winter Meeting of the British Grassland Society on 5 December 1984

R. C. RAE and A. REEVE. The potential of an all-forage diet for the spring calving dairy cow 227

J. D. LEAVER and D. FRASER. Four years' experience with a low-input system at Crichton Royal Farm 229

D. A. POOLE. A buffer grazing system 231

J. C. RIDER. A system of milk production from January/February calving cows and some thoughts on the modification of that system to cope with the current pressures being imposed on British Agriculture 233

A. H. POOLE. Financial response to lower concentrate inputs in the dairy herd 235

D. G. CHAPPLE. Feeding young calves on silage-only diets 237

T. A. STEWART. Development of a system to produce 1 tonne of beef per hectare from a low N grass/clover sward 239

R. J. HAGGAR, S. P. ISAAC and C. J. STANDELL. Increasing clover contents in mixed swards with mefluidide, a plant growth regulator 241

H. WAGSTAFF. Variations in input use and performance on Scottish livestock farms 243

A. HOPKINS, C. DIBB, P.J. BOWLING, J. GILBEY, P. J. MURRAY and I. A. N. WILSON. Production from permanent and reseeded grassland in England and Wales: results from a multi-site cutting trial 245

Book Reviews 247

NUMBER 3, SEPTEMBER 1985

D. J. MOWAT and S. JESS. A comparison of insecticide treatments for the control of frit in seedling ryegrass 251

J. M. COBBY, M. S. RIDOUT, P. J. BASSETT and R. V. LARGE. An investigation into the use of ranked set sampling on grass and grass-clover swards 257

ANNE RANGELEY and P. NEWBOULD. Growth responses to lime and fertilizers and critical concentrations in herbage of white clover in Scottish hill soils 265

R. E. PITT, R. E. MUCK and R. Y. LEIBENSPERGER. A quantitative model of the ensilage process in lactate silages 279

JANE WOLEDGE and P. JOY PEARSE. The effect of nitrogenous fertilizer on the photosynthesis of leaves of a ryegrass sward 305

P. L. CATHERALL. Resistance of grasses to two sobemoviruses, cocksfoot mottle and cynosurus mottle 311

W. SHEEHAN, J. P. FONTENOT and R. E. BLASER. In-vitro dry matter digestibility and chemical composition of autumn-accumulated tall fescue, orchardgrass and red clover 317

D. A. DAVIES, E. L. JONES and T. E. H. MORGAN. Comparison of the relative performance of perennial ryegrass varieties under upland and lowland conditions 323

R. J. HAGGAR and S. P. ISAAC. The use of a reflectance ratio meter to monitor grass establishment and herbicide damage 331

R. F. WELLER, R. H. PHIPPS and A. COOPER. The effect of the brown midrib-3 gene on the maturity and yield of forage maize 335

R. W. J. STEEN and W. A. MCILMOYLE. The effect of frequency of harvesting grass for silage and the intake and performance of beef cattle 341

A. HOPKINS, ELIZABETH A. MATKIN, JULIA A. ELLIS and S. PEEL. South-west England grassland survey 1983. 1. Age structure and sward composition of permanent and arable grassland and their relation to manageability, fertilizer and other management features 349

J. G. HAMPTON and P. D. HEBBLETHWAITE. A comparison of seed harvesting methods for perennial ryegrass treated with the growth retardant paclobutrazol (Research Note) 361

A. FLOREZ, E. MALPARTIDA F. C. BRYANT and E. P. WIGGERS. Nutrient content and phenology of cool-season grasses of Peru (Research Note) 365

D. REID. The combined use of fertilizer nitrogen and white clover on grazed ryegrass swards (Research Note) 371

N. D. BOATMAN and R. J. HAGGAR. Effects of grass defoliation on the establishment and growth of slot-seeded white clover (Research Note) 375
